Ottawa Police Arrest Canada Science and Technology Museums Corporation Employee

Friday, July 19, 2013 – The Canada Science and Technology Museums Corporation’s most important commitment is to provide a safe environment for its visitors and employees. The Corporation is deeply troubled by the criminal allegations invoked in the investigation.

The Corporation is working closely with the police and will not comment on the investigation at this time, allowing the justice system to take its course. The Ottawa Police Service has advised the Corporation that they had no reason to believe, with the information they have at this moment, that visitors or employees have been in any danger.
